START DATE Tuesday 4 October 2022

DELIVERY

Online lectures on Tuesdays from 6pm to 9pm. Also available to view on demand.

ASSESSMENT

2,500 word written assignment

FEE €1,650

PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

Delivered by experienced professionals, the course begins with an examination of the legislative and regulatory framework applicable to pensions in Ireland. The functions and powers of the Pensions Authority, the Revenue Commissioners, and the Financial Services and Pensions Ombudsman are reviewed, as are the respective duties and obligations of both the employer and the trustees of a pension scheme.

“The course provides fantastic up-to-date content that should prove extremely useful to anyone who seeks to develop an understanding of the complex pensions landscape that exists in Ireland. Lectures are provided by people who deal with pensions on a daily basis and have a practical understanding of the issues being discussed.”

*Stephen Gillick, Course Lecturer,
Partner and Head of Pensions Team,
Mason Hayes & Curran LLP*

The certificate will analyse the main pension scheme structures, such as defined contribution, defined benefit, personal pension plans and recent developments in the area including implementation of IORPs II, Master Trusts and auto-enrolment. The course will focus on the obligations of trustees, enabling them to fulfil their duties and will give insight into the handling of challenging issues such as underfunding, scheme wind-ups, pensions adjustment orders, taxation, mergers and acquisitions, and scheme restructuring.

PROGRAMME OBJECTIVES

On completion of this training programme, participants will have:

- An excellent understanding of the key legal issues pertaining to current pensions law and practice and trusteeship in Ireland,
- A comprehensive understanding of pensions legislation and all relevant pensions regulatory bodies,
