27. The failure by the Purchaser to pay in full the deposit hereinbefore specified as payable by him shall constitute a breach of condition entitling the Vendor to terminate the Sale or to sue the Purchaser for damages or both but such entitlement shall be without prejudice to any rights otherwise available to the Vendor.
28. In case a cheque taken for the deposit (having been presented and whether or not it has been re-presented) shall not have been honoured, then and on that account the Vendor may (without prejudice to any rights otherwise available to him) elect either:
 - (a) to treat the contract evidenced by the Memorandum, the Particulars and the Conditions as having been discharged by breach thereof on the Purchaser's part
 - or
 - (b) to enforce payment of the deposit as a deposit by suing on the cheque or otherwise.

DIFFERENCES - ERRORS

29. (a) In this Condition "error" includes any omission, non-disclosure, discrepancy, difference, inaccuracy, mis-statement or mis-representation made in the Memorandum, the Particulars, the Conditions or the replies to Requisitions and Rejoinders or in the course of any representation, response or negotiations leading to the Sale, and whether in respect of measurements, quantities, descriptions or otherwise.

- (b) The Purchaser shall be entitled to be compensated by the Vendor for any loss suffered by the Purchaser in his bargain relative to the Sale as a result of an error made by or on behalf of the Vendor provided however that no compensation shall be payable for loss of trifling materiality (unless attributable to recklessness or fraud on the part of the Vendor) nor in respect of any matter of which the Purchaser shall be deemed to have had notice under General Condition 14(a) nor in relation to any error in a location or similar plan furnished for identification only.
- (c) Nothing in the Memorandum, the Particulars or the Conditions shall:
 - (i) entitle the Vendor to require the Purchaser to accept property which differs substantially from the property agreed to be sold whether in quantity, quality, tenure or otherwise, if the Purchaser would be prejudiced materially by reason of any such difference
 - or
 - (ii) affect the right of the Purchaser to rescind or repudiate the Sale where compensation for a claim attributable to a material error made by or on behalf of the Vendor cannot be reasonably assessed
- (d) Save as aforesaid, no error shall annul the Sale or entitle the Vendor or the Purchaser (as the case may be) to be discharged therefrom.

DOCUMENTS OF TITLE RELATING TO OTHER PROPERTY

- 30. (a) Documents of title relating to other property as well as to the Subject Property shall be retained by the Vendor or other person entitled to the possession thereof.
- (b) Where the Subject Property is sold in lots, all documents of title relating to more than one lot shall be retained by the Vendor until the completion of the sales of all the lots comprised in such documents, and shall then (unless they also relate to any property retained by the Vendor) be handed over to such of the purchasers as the Vendor shall consider best entitled thereto.
- (c) The Vendor shall give to the Purchaser (and where the Subject Property is sold in lots, to the purchaser of each lot) certified copies of all documents retained under this Condition and pertinent to the title to be furnished (other than documents of record, of which plain copies only will be given).

Such acknowledgement and undertaking shall be prepared by and at the expense of the Purchaser.
- (e) If the Vendor is retaining any unregistered land held wholly or partly under the same title as the Subject Property, the Assurance shall be engrossed in duplicate by and at the expense of the Purchaser, who shall deliver to the Vendor the counterpart thereof, same having been stamped and registered and (if appropriate) executed by the Purchaser.

and

- (ii) that in all cases where the provisions of the Building Control Acts 1990 to 2014 apply to the design or Development of the Subject Property or any part of the same or any activities in connection therewith, there has been substantial compliance with the said provisions in so far as they pertained to such design, Development or activities during the Relevant Period

(f)

- (i) Where the Vendor has furnished certificates or opinions pursuant to General Condition 32(e), the Vendor shall have no liability on foot of the warranties expressed in General Condition 32(a) in respect of any matter with regard to which such certificate or opinion is erroneous or inaccurate, unless the Vendor was aware at the Date of Sale that the same contained any material error or inaccuracy.
- (ii) If, subsequent to the Date of Sale and prior to Completion, it is established that any such certificate or opinion is erroneous or inaccurate, then, if the Vendor fails to show that

- 34. If any such deposit as is to be returned pursuant to General Condition 33 shall not have been returned to the Purchaser within five Working Days from the date upon which the Sale shall have been rescinded, the Purchaser shall be entitled to interest thereon at the Stipulated Interest Rate from the expiration of the said period of five Working Days to the date upon which the deposit shall have been so returned.
- 35. The right to rescind shall not be lost by reason only of any intermediate negotiations or attempts to comply with or to remove the issue giving rise to the exercise of such right.

COMPLETION NOTICES

- 36. Save where time is of the essence in respect of the Closing Date, the following provisions shall apply:
 - (a) if the Sale be not completed on or before the Closing Date either party may on or after that date (unless the Sale shall first have been rescinded or become void) give to the other party notice to complete the Sale in accordance with this Condition, but such notice shall be effective only if the party giving it shall then either be able, ready and willing to complete the Sale or is not so able, ready or willing by reason of the default or misconduct of the other party

- (b) upon service of such notice the party upon whom it shall have been served shall complete the Sale within a period of twenty-eight days after the date of such service (as defined in General Condition 45 and excluding the date of service), and in respect of such period time shall be of the essence of the contract but without prejudice to any intermediate right of rescission by either party
- (c) the recipient of any such notice shall give to the party serving the same reasonable advice of his readiness to complete
- (d) if the Purchaser shall not comply with such a notice within the said period (or within any extension thereof which the Vendor may agree) he shall be deemed to have failed to comply with these Conditions in a material respect and the Vendor may enforce against the Purchaser, without further notice, such rights and remedies as may be available to the Vendor at law or in equity, or (without prejudice to such rights and remedies) he may invoke and impose the provisions of General Condition 37
- (e) if the Vendor does not comply with such a notice within the said period (or within any extension thereof which the Purchaser may agree), then the Purchaser may elect either to enforce against the Vendor, without further notice, such rights and remedies as may be available to the Purchaser at law or in equity or (without prejudice to any right of the Purchaser to damages) to give notice to the Vendor requiring a return to the Purchaser of all moneys paid by him, whether by way of deposit or otherwise, on account of the Purchase Price. General Condition 34 shall apply to all moneys so to be returned, the period of five Working Days therein being computed from the date of the giving of such last mentioned notice. If the Purchaser gives such a notice and all the said moneys and interest (if any) are remitted to him, the Purchaser shall no longer be entitled to specific performance of the Sale, and shall return forthwith all documents in his possession belonging to the Vendor, and (at the Vendor's expense) procure the cancellation of any entry relating to the Sale in any register
- (f) the party serving a notice under this Condition may, at the request of or with the consent of the other party, by written communication to the other party extend the term of such notice for one or more specified periods of time, and, in that case, the term of the notice shall be deemed to expire on the last day of such extended period or periods, and the notice shall operate as though such extended period or periods had been specified in this Condition in lieu of the said period of twenty-eight days, and time shall be of the essence in relation to such extended period
- (g) the Vendor shall not be deemed to be other than able, ready and willing to complete for the purposes of this Condition:
 - (i) by reason of the fact that the Subject Property has been mortgaged or charged, provided that the funds (including the deposit) receivable on Completion shall (after allowing for all prior claims thereon) be sufficient to discharge the aggregate of all amounts payable in satisfaction of such mortgages and charges to the extent that they relate to the Subject Propertyor

- (ii) by reason of being unable, not ready or unwilling at the date of service of such notice to deliver vacant possession of the Subject Property provided that (where it is a term of the Sale that vacant possession thereof be given) the Vendor is, upon being given reasonable advice of the other party's intention to close the Sale on a date within the said period of twenty-eight days or any extension thereof pursuant to General Condition 36(f), able, ready and willing to deliver vacant possession of the Subject Property on that date.

FORFEITURE OF DEPOSIT AND RESALE

- 37. (a) If the Purchaser shall fail in any material respect to comply with any of the Conditions, the Vendor (without prejudice to any rights or remedies available to him at law or in equity) shall be entitled to forfeit the deposit and to such purpose unilaterally to direct his solicitor or other stakeholder to release same to him AND the Vendor shall be at liberty (without being obliged to tender an Assurance) to resell the Subject Property, with or without notice to the Purchaser, either by public auction or private treaty. In the event of the Vendor re-selling the Subject Property within one year after the Closing Date (or within one year computed from the expiration of any period by which the closing may have been extended pursuant to General Condition 36) the deficiency (if any) arising on such re-sale and all costs and expenses attending the same or on any attempted re-sale shall (without prejudice to such damages to which the Vendor shall otherwise be entitled) be made good to the Vendor by the Purchaser, who shall be allowed credit against same for the deposit so forfeited. Any increase in price obtained by the Vendor on any re-sale, whenever effected, shall belong to the Vendor.
- (b) A solicitor or other stakeholder acting on any such direction as is referred to in General Condition 37(a) shall have no further obligations as stakeholder or otherwise in respect of such deposit to the Vendor or to the Purchaser PROVIDED that he shall have given to the Purchaser notice of the receipt by him of the said direction and the Purchaser shall not within twenty one days of the giving of such notice have instituted and served proceedings disputing the rights alleged by the Vendor to forfeit the deposit.

DAMAGES FOR DEFAULT

- 38. (a) Neither the Vendor nor the Purchaser, in whose favour an order for specific performance has been made, shall be precluded from an award of damages at law or in equity, in the event of such order not being complied with.
- (b) Notwithstanding any rule of law to the contrary, failure on the part of the Vendor to show title to the Subject Property in accordance with the Conditions shall not per se preclude the making of an award for damages to the Purchaser for loss of bargain or otherwise in relation to the Sale.

RISK

- 39. Subject as hereinafter provided, the Vendor shall be liable for any loss or damage howsoever occasioned (other than by the Purchaser or his agent) to the Subject Property (and the Purchased Chattels) between the Date of Sale and Completion BUT any such liability (including liability for consequential or resulting loss) shall not as to the amount thereof exceed the Purchase Price.
- 40. The liability imposed on the Vendor by General Condition 39 shall not apply:

- (a) to inconsequential damage or insubstantial deterioration from reasonable wear and tear in the course of normal occupation and use, and not materially affecting value
- (b) to damage occasioned by operations reasonably undertaken by the Vendor in his removal from, and vacation of the Subject Property, provided that the same are so undertaken with reasonable care

- (e) the Purchaser's right to effect on or after the Date of Sale his own insurance against loss or damage in respect of the Subject Property or any part of the same (or the Purchased Chattels)

- (g) the rights and liabilities of the Purchaser on foot of any Lease subsisting at the Date of Sale, or of any arrangement whereby the Purchaser shall prior to Completion have been allowed into occupation of the Subject Property or any part thereof (or into possession of the Purchased Chattels).

CHATELS

42. Unless otherwise disclosed to the Purchaser prior to the Date of Sale, the Vendor warrants that, at Completion, all the Purchased Chattels shall be his unencumbered property and that same shall not be subject to any lease, rental hire, hire-purchase or credit sale agreement or chattel mortgage.

INSPECTION

43. The Vendor shall accede to all such requests as may be made by the Purchaser for the inspection on a reasonable number of occasions and at reasonable times of the Subject Property (and the Purchased Chattels).

NON-MERGER

44. Notwithstanding delivery of the Assurance of the Subject Property to the Purchaser on foot of the Sale, all obligations and provisions designed to survive Completion and all warranties in the Conditions contained, which shall not have been implemented by the said Assurance, and which shall be capable of continuing or taking effect after Completion, shall enure and remain in full force and effect.

TIME LIMITS

46. Where the last day for taking any step on foot of the Conditions or any notice served thereunder would, but for this provision, be a day (whether or not a Working Day) on which the registers or records wherein it shall be appropriate to make searches referable to the Sale shall not be available to the public, then such last day shall instead be the next following Working Day which is not the subject of this circumstance.
